

My Money Game Plan

“Most people don’t plan to fail, they fail to plan.”

Once you have money you need to choose what to do with it ~ you need a Money Game Plan. A Money Game Plan helps you decide in advance how to best spend the money you have now and in the future.

These are some ways I plan to earn extra money:

This is how I will allocate (divvy-up) my money when I receive it:

This is where I will keep my short-term savings: (piggy bank, wallet, savings account)

This is where I will keep my long-term savings: (savings account, CDs, bonds, etc.)

This is the kind of consumer I will be: (I will look for sales, comparison shop, etc.)

This is how much money I want to have before I begin investing it:

These are some places I think I may want to invest my money:

If I find myself with extra money, this is what I will do with it:

This is how I plan to use credit cards when I am older:

This is what I think of spending my money on lottery tickets and gambling:
